THE FINAL ELIMINATOR 2023

The IRTPA is delighted to announce that the bidding process for the World Championship's Final Eliminator in 2023 is now open; all clubs are invited to tender for the right to host this event.

Background Information

It is very much the desire of the International World Championship Committee (IWCC) comprising the IRTPA and the world's 4 National Associations, to see this event played over the challenge format of the best of 13 sets.

The Final Eliminator affords all clubs the chance to host what is a very exciting event, at a lower financial commitment than the Challenge itself, and most importantly gives supporters the opportunity to see the game being played at the highest level and in a format which is challenging to the players.

Information on how the Eliminator process works can be read in Appendix III

In Rob Fahey's own words this is what a best of thirteen sets format is:

"The physical, mental, emotional, tactical and tennis demands of a best of 13 set match are unlike any other format tennis players compete in. There are no "secret weapons", no "brilliant night out" that will get you through a best of 13. Whereas you might surprise someone with something on the night of the British Open final, by day 2 of a World Championship match that "weapon" has been worked on and solved, that "brilliance" has faded and you are back to the drawing board. Best of 13 is a true test of tennis, if you have any weakness – it will be found, if you like to play to a strength – it will be taken away from you, it comes down to who has the best all-around game, the strongest body, the strongest mind, the biggest will to win and the nerve to stick with it all. At 2 sets all in a best of 5 matches there are still some questions to be answered and the natural ebbs and flows of a match can decide the outcome. At 6 sets all, in the best of 13 sets, there is nothing left unanswered. It is 2 players looking at each other, looking inside themselves and deciding who has the heart to win from here. There is nothing in Tennis that can compare to this!”

OFFICIAL REQUIREMENTS OF A HOST CLUB

The Minimum Guaranteed Prize Fund

This is set at US$15,000

It is disbursed as follows:

There are additional expenses to be borne by the host club in addition to the guaranteed prize fund and these are:

Provision for training and practice

- To provide a total of four hours court time, shared by the players, for each of the ten days prior to the first day of play and for each of the two days between the match days. On a match day a total of two hours court the players share time. A total of 54 hours plus the hours used for the actual match.

The host club is responsible for all court usage costs

Accommodation for the players and training partners

- Provide self-catering accommodation for the competing players and their training partners, if acceptable billeting is not available. This should be close to the court.

The host club is responsible for this

Balls

- The provision of the balls will be arranged by the National Association of the host country.
- 120 balls are required for the Final Eliminator.
- These can be rented or purchased from the National Associations' approved ball makers.

Free Ticket Allocation

APPENDIX I

IWCC CRITERIA FOR EVALUATING HOST CLUB TENDERS

The following criteria have been set by the IWCC for the Executive as a guide for evaluating tenders to host the Challenge

Criterion		Maximum Points
The prize fund	Absolute	30
	Proportional	30
International rotation		20
Suitability of the proposed venue		10
Good of the game		10
TOTAL		100

For clarification of the prize fund criterion:

The best bid under the prize fund criterion will score maximum points and the points scored by other bidders will be proportionate to this.

For all other criteria the points awarded will be Absolute

Under the Absolute scale under the prize fund criterion, one point will be deducted for each 1000 by which the less bid trails the greater.

Example: Club A bids 60,000 and Club B bids 40,000
Absolute: Club A scores 30 and Club B scores 10 (i.e. 30 less 20)
Proportional: Club A scores 30 and Club B scores 20
Total: Club A scores 60 and Club B scores 30

Under international rotation criterion, weightings are applied as follows:

The most recent host club	0
All clubs in the most recent host country	5
All clubs in the previous host country	10
All clubs in the second previous host country	15
All other clubs	20
